ASTIGMATISM.

What it is, and How Corrected.

Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the film known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent Eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON to put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 302½ S. Elm St.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., June 29.

Cupid is ever on the alert in High Point. Another marriage will be solemnized here next week.

John B. Wright, music dealer, and Mr. Powe, of the Odell Hardware Co., both of Greensboro, were city guests yesterday.

Dr. J. R. Reitzel is much better today, so much so that he is able to be out for the first time in several weeks, we are glad to learn.

A sociable will be given by the Epworth League of the M. E. Church tonight at the home of Mr. J. H Millis, on South Main street.

Joe Welborn, the clever little "printers' devil" in the Enterprise office, is confined to his bed with sickness this week, sorry to know.

E. H. Umstead, who at one time run a grocery and confectionery store here, represented Winston in the city yesterday, to the delight of his many friends.

Misses Mina Alexander and Kate Ingram, of this city, Blanch Boyles, of Greensboro, and Daisy Leak, of Kernersville, left yesterday morning for a stay of several days at Mt. Gilead.

A petition has been in circulation requesting all the business houses in the city to close their doors from 10 a. m. to 3 p m. on next Tuesday, July 4th, and attend the unveiling exercises. Thirty-six have signed the petition so far, only a few keeping their names off. This is commendable in our business men, we think.

The New York Racket Store, owned by A. J. Owen, was entered by burglars early Tuesday morning. The thieves must have become frightened after breaking the large window glass in front of store, for only a pair or two of shoes and a shirt were missed, which were in the show-window. The robbery has been kept rather quiet since it happened. It does seem that High Point is cursed with a band of local (?) thieves.

The inhabitants of this city were pained to hear of the death of Mr. Thos. Beeson, which occurred at the home of his brother, Mr. N. W. Beeson, on North Main street, yesterday evening. The deceased had been in poor health for several years, suffering terribly at times, but bore it all without complaint or murmur until the end came. He leaves a wife to mourn his demise. Thomas Beeson was a man of good character and loved by all who know him, who will learn of his death with great sorrow. He was a member of the Baptist church here The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. J. B Richardson and Rev. J. M. Hilliard this evening at 4 o'clock and the remains interred in the High Point cemetery. The sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the entire city.

The main auditorium of the M. E church was crowded to its utmost capacity last evening at 8:30 o'clock to witness the marriage of Mr. Daniel T. Marable to Miss Leonora Moon, both of this city. Under the soft strains of Mendellsohn's wedding march, played by Mrs J. J. Farriss, and preceded by the ushers, Dr. D A. Stanton, J. J. Farriss, C. C. Barbee, and Fred P. Moon, (the bride's brother), who marched down the aisles and took their paces two on each side of the chancel, which was tastily decorated with various kinds of flowers, the bride came down the aisle and faced the officiating minister, Rev. J. R. Scroggs, who pronounced them man and wife. They left on the 8:13 northbound mail. The presents received from friends were numerous, beautiful and costly. The happy couple have many friends here and elsewhere who will wish them a bon voyage, long life and much happiness.

There is certainly not enough of these to go around and you must come early in the morning if you want them. Don't wait until the sizes you want are all gone and then say we advertise things we haven't got, for we always live up to our advertisements and can always show you everything we advertise, if you come before it is sold. We offer you now eleven pairs of boys' shoes, with heels, sizes 12, 12½, 13 and 13½, former price $1 25, at 50c. a pair; three pairs ladies' white canvas Oxford ties, kid-trimmed and kid heels, sizes 3, and 5½, former price $1.25, at 25 cents a pair (this is not a miss print—it means just twenty-five cents a pair); two pair boys' patent-leather Oxford ties, sizes 1 and 2, former price $1.25, at 50c a pair; four pairs little gents' black kid patent-tip laced shoes, sizes 12, 12½, 13 and 13½, former price $1.15, at 60c. a pair; fourteen pairs boys' tan shoes, sizes 4, 4, 4½, 5 and 5½, former price $1 50 and $1.25, at 75c. a pair; twenty pairs little gents' dark tan, spring-heel laced shoes, all sizes from 8½ to 13½, former price $1.25 and $1.00, at 75c. a pair.

A THRILLING ADVENTURE.

The Kidnapping Expedition of Miss Elvia M. Bell.

GREENSBORO'S LATEST HEROINE

Made the Trip Alone to Ocean Springs, Miss., Secured the Children and Returned Home.

Greensboro has a heroine. If nerve, pluck, fortitude and tact displayed in thrilling adventure by a young lady under circumstances before which the majority of people would quail, constitute a heroine, then she is entitled to boast of one of a type which scarcely a decade of North Carolina history has produced.

Our heroine appears in the person of Miss Elvia M. Bell, who resides with her father just out of town and is stenographer for the Merchants Grocery Company.

The facts are these: Her sister, Mrs E. L. Case on account of mistreatment, separated from her husband, who resides at Ocean Springs, Miss., with his father, and came with her two little girls, Evern and Veva, aged respectively four and six years, to live with her father near town. Her husband soon came and desired to take the children It was agreed that they should return to Mississippi with him to remain two months and be returned to the mother the 7th day of May last. When the time was up the husband not only refused to return the children but ignored every communication addressed to him on the subject.

The mother was greatly distressed at the retention of the children and could not endure the delay and expense incident to regular proceedings at law. It was at this juncture that our heroine appeared upon the scene.

After consulting a law firm of this city, Bradshaw & Newlin, as to the risk involved in the undertaking, she resolved to go to Mississippi, kidnap the children, if necessary, and bring them with her to Greensboro, knowing all the while she would have the strongest opposition to encounter. Accordingly about the 10th of June she boarded the train at this place and in due time arrived at Ocean Springs and took lodging at the hotel to study the situation and mature her plans. She carried a letter of introduction to some lawyers there and soon had the sympathy of the hotel keeper and Mr. Martin Turnbull, a reporter of the Times-Democrat, enlisted in her cause. After fruitless interviews, of not too friendly a nature, Mr. Case finally agreed that one child could return Monday the 26th, but the other must remain with him. This concession did not satisfy Miss Bell. She had gone for both and both she must have.

Strategy now was her only resort. A sail down the river was arranged for on Sunday by a party with which she was to go. This confirmed the belief that she would not leave Ocean Springs before Monday. Now it was easy to secure permission for the children to dine with her at the hotel on Saturday, and here the excitement begins.

To allay suspicion of final departure and to be rid of all possible incumbrance it was arranged with the hotel keeper that baggage should be left behind and hotel bill remain unpaid. When the children came Saturday morning it had been planned by the Times-Democrat reporter that Miss Bell and the children should go down the river in a boat toward New Orleans, but this miscarried and, to escape unnoticed, they took a carriage for Fontainbleau, a station several miles distant on the L. & N. Railroad, to take the northbound train from New Orleans. It was a fast drive through Mississippi mud and water and the little party were much bespattered. A smallpox quarantine was encountered and after considerable difficulty was passed. Fortunately the train was an hour late and as it pulled in Miss Bell discovered a man, whom she recognized as the Times-Democrat reporter, on the rear of the train waving to her frantically. She made for him at once, when the conductor and porter lifted her and the children bodily on the train. She learned that the grandfather of the children had caught on to the racket who, as well as the reporter, had boarded the train lower down the road and was now in quest of her.

The irate old gentleman soon put in an appearance, upbraided Miss Bell, taunted her with "trying to do something smart" and informed her that they would get off at Scranton (the next station) intimating that she would be arrested there. Not having a Pullman car ticket this disturbing factor was soon removed from the scene by the porter, and Miss Bell locked herself and the children inside one of the departments of the Pullman car. At Scranton the grandfather alighted from the train and the officers got on, who failing in their search got off at the next station. In the meanwhile the grandfather at Scranton had a warrant issued for Miss Bell on the charge of kidnapping and telegraphed to Mobile, Ala., to have her arrested. The reporter anticipated this and used all his influence with the railroad men in her behalf. It was decided that she and the children should be locked up and the conductor would immediately leave the train.

When the train arrived at Mobile, 1:30, two of the city's detectives and a crowd, over which hovered an air of suspicion, were there to greet it. The officers at once began their search and one of the trainmen treacherously gave the scheme away. They demanded admittance, which being refused, the door was battered open. Miss Bell was clutching both children in her arms and boldly demanded their authority for attempting her arrest. Failing to produce any she resisted them and took refuge behind every seat of the car. Reaching the door she kicked it shut, which locking fast, the same tedious process was necessary to reach the other end of the car. Her arms were bruised and blackened in the struggle.

She and the children were now hastened to the police station but the faithful reporter of the Times-Democrat did not desert her. He at once secured the service of Gregory L. Smith, one of the most prominent attorneys of Mobile, who immediately went to her and hearing her story, told her to leave the station. The chief of police objected promptly, saying he had a warrant for her detention, which charged her with being a fugitive from justice on the evidence of being concealed on the train. Mr. Smith then went before Judge Semmer and secured a writ of habeas corpus returnable instanter, and the case was tried in the city court, Mr. Smith representing Miss Bell and the city attorney the chief of police.

The Mobile Daily Item, of Sunday morning, gives the following account of the trial: "The young woman was placed on the stand She testified that Evern and Veva Case were the children of her sister Mrs. Edna L. Case, of Greensboro, N. C. That her sister and brother-in-law had separated and an agreement had been drawn up by them as to the custody of the children, by which the husband had been permitted to bring them away from Greensboro, where the wife had gone, and retain them until May 7th, 1899, after which it was agreed the children should go to the mother to be retained by her. Miss Bell stated that she was authorized by her sister to go and get the children and had done so. She produced the agreement entered into by Mr. and Mrs. Case. It was signed by two parties and witnessed.

"Judge Semmer, after hearing the pro and con of the matter, made an order discharging from custody the young woman, which also released her from the warrant issued by the Recorder. The judge stated that he did it on the contract produced by Miss Bell, but that if the matter were before him otherwise or between father and mother he would give the custody of the children to the mother.

"Miss Bell is a brunette of distinguished appearance and talks with considerable intelligence. She wore a handsome black traveling dress and stylish hat."

After the largely attended trial Miss Bell was surrounded by representatives of the different newspapers who vied with each other in showing her every possible kindness. She was immediately carried by them to one of the best hotels in the city where rooms were secured, the little girls put to rest and she was served with an elegant supper. It was planned for her to leave Mobile on the midnight train for the north but it was suspected by the reporter, and suspected rightly, that the grandfather and officers would come from Scranton on the very train upon which she was to leave. How to evade them was now the problem. It seemed a difficult one, but nothing is too much for reporters and railroad men. In conjunction they planned that Miss Bell and the children should be on the opposite side of the train from which the passengers get off and that a door be opened on that side for her reception. Accordingly when the train came the grandfather and the officers, who had been wired of the arrest, alighted on the side with the throng, while Miss Bell and the children quietly entered from the other and reached Greensboro on the north bound train last Sunday evening.

The little girls are none the worse for the trip, but are contented, bright, pretty and happy. The courage, tact and skill shown by Miss Bell are remarkable for a lady of her years. Never for once did she lose her presence of mind; but through the whole trying adventure was as cool, unflinching and incisive as a surgeon's knife. The Telegram challenges the state for a young lady more daring, brave and adventurous, and yet so quiet that this adventure is even now known to few of her friends.

PHOENIX-LIKE WILL RISE

From the Benbow's Ashes a Magnificent New Hotel.

Before many short weeks shall have passed one of the handsomest and most modern hotels in the South will grace the site of the ruined Benbow.

Mr. D. J. Sinclair, of Jordan, Sinclair & McDonald, returned this morning from Boston, where, since the Benbow was destroyed by fire, he has been seeking to interest Boston capital in replacing the well-known hotel. How well he succeeded will be seen when the new Benbow is constructed. He yesterday telegraphed his firm that capital was easy to get and the deal whereby the Benbow ruins became the property of Jordan, Sinclair & McDonald, with the good will of the former owner, was at once closed.

As a result of this deal the famous Benbow House will soon again be open to guests, prepared to accommodate more of them and to give them the benefit of any modern convenience to be had at any hotel in the South. The new owners have decided to begin work at once and push it to rapid completion, opening the hotel not a day later than can possibly be helped.

Though the plans of the building have not been definitely decided upon it will most probably be six stories high and will certainly be arranged especially for convenience, elegance and comfort. It will be fitted with the best passenger elevator, electric lights and other modern improvements.

Messrs. Jordan, Sinclair & McDonald are progressive gentlemen who are looking at Greensboro's future. They will make the new Benbow a hotel that will be a credit to the city now and in years to come and that will not grow out of date in a few years. They realize the fact that to build anything but a first class hostelry would be a poor investment and that to build a first class one will be a good investment, and the latter is what is sought.

Capt. Fisher has said that he did not care to build a modern hotel and consequently did not care to build at all unless he failed to dispose of the property at satisfactory figures.

The new owners will have the walls of the old building thoroughly examined and if found perfectly strong they will be used. If not they will be torn away and the new building will start at the ground.

The announcement that the Benbow is to be rebuilt with far superior accommodations, will not come as a surprise, but it will, nevertheless, be received with a rare degree of pleasure, by the people of Greensboro and North Carolina.

With the two new hotels now proposed, Greensboro's hotel accommodations will by far surpass those of any city in North Carolina. The Benbow and the Hotel Normandie will both be first-class in every respect and with the excellently-managed McAdoo House, the city will have at least three good hostelries.

It might be inferred from some of the above that northern capitalists will be largely interested in the new Benbow. Messrs. Jordan, Sinclair & McDonald, however, will give home capital preference; they simply have the assurance that Boston capital can be had if desired.

The manager of the new hotel has of course not been secured thus early, but from a Telegram representative's talk with one of the gentlemen interested, he inferred that the manager had been selected and will be secured if possible. He is a gentleman perfectly familiar with the business and already enjoys a wide-spread reputation for being a rare good hotelist.

Greensboro is the future metropolis of North Carolina and her sister cities and rivals may prepare to see her pass! Onward and upward she marches.

COLORED CYCLE RACES.

Excursion From Charlotte Brings Four Hundred Attendants.

An excursion loaded with four hundred colored people came in from Charlotte this morning. The darkies came to attend the colored bicycle races which are going on at the race track this afternoon The colored population of Greensboro quit work to entertain their Charlottee friends and the streets were full of colored people until shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon—the hour the races began. The colored band paraded the streets this morning, also this evening, and judging from the crowd which followed it, the races will be a great success.

There are a large number of entries, people being present from many neighboring towns.

John Clark Arrested.

Officer Whittington yesterday afternoon arrested John Clark, the negro who on last Saturday night made a nuisance of himself at a number of residences on Asheboro street. The officer says he has known John of old and that he is not crazy, but a veritable demon, who takes a delight in raising disturbances when he can frighten women who have no protection.

GREENSBORO VS. CONCORD.

Three Games to Be Played on the Concord Diamond.

The Greensboro baseball team left this morning for Concord where they will remain for three days to play the Concord team three games, provided neither team wins the first two. Manager Frank Thornton said he was leaving with the best team that ever left Greensboro, and the boys were expecting to win laurels on the Concord diamond. The following composed the Greensboro team: John Fox, Jim Fox, Jim Hood, Luke Glascock, Fd Glenn, Vernon Glenn, Robert Watson, "Dink" Ingram, Charlie Morton, George Crutchfield, Lee Crawford and Manager Frank Thornton.

TYPHOID MAY BE AVOIDED.

The Philadelphia Record continues its cry for better water; and the authorities of the city still refuse to take the necessary steps to secure it. It is said that the annual death roll in the "Quaker City" from typhoid fever, which is directly traceable to the germ-infected water supply, is appalling, running up into many thousands.

The vast loss of life in the cities of this country from typhoid might be avoided by the proper sanitary precaution, as has been unmistakably proved by eminent physicians. Typhoid is an unnecessary malady and is born of impure drinking water, decaying vegetation upon the premises and other unwise negligence.

Greensboro is far freer of this dread disease than the average city. We hope our sanitary officers will continue in increased watchfulness against a typhoid epidemic which proves so disastrous to the welfare of a city.

SECRETARY ALGER'S GAME.

The spectacle of Secretary Alger swinging to the limb of the war department with his tail while with tooth and claw he endeavors to catch the Michigan senatorship, is disgustingly ridiculous. In his selfish aspirations he is trying to run two tables, playing on one the administration and on the other the Pingree opponents of the administration in Michigan. Alger has stated that Pingree is a friend of the administration. Along comes Pingree and says its false, and exposes the scheme the head of the war department is trying to work.

It would hardly be fair, and McKinley will hardly allow the war secretary to fish for the senatorship in Michigan with the vantage ground of the war department. We can only hope that just as the prize glides the war secretary's greedy grasp, his discomfiture will be completed by the breaking of his tail-hold by the president.

In New York Tuesday a negro killed a saloonkeeper on Amsterdam avenue. The block was surrounded and the negro captured. A large crowd collected and insisted on lynching the murderer, but one hundred policemen got the negro safely to prison by disguising him as a woman. About the same hour a mob was doing its best to fasten a clothes line around the neck of a white man who had assaulted a little girl, and in this case the arrival of sufficient police power was all that prevented a lynching. Affairs of this kind occur almost weekly in and around the large cities, and the only obstacle in the way of the criminal being swung to a lamp post or elevated railroad is the arrival of the police. It is about time these facts were being considered by the newspapers and speakers of the north.—Charlotte Observer.

If the armies of police which are paid to keep down riots in New York and other large cities of the north, were withdrawn for only a day we wonder what the result would be.

McKinley, "with his ear to the ground," construes the muttered discontent throughout the land to be a dissatisfaction at the long-continued war, and has decided to increase Otis' army to a force of 40,000 men.

There will be no organized celebration of the glorious Fourth in Greensboro. Of course our dear boys will raise sand, as they usually do, but the city is reserving her fire till the great blow-out in August.

GOVERNOR RUSSELL

Admits That the Constitutional Amendment Will Pass.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, June 29—The past record of Goebel, the democratic nominee for governor of Kentucky, was discussed with much interest by Kentuckians at the down town hotels. It is admitted by most of them that his record is not such as will inspire the silver element in the state with much enthusiasm, or will be a great aid in getting voters to the polls. The nominee for governor was originally a gold democrat, and a strong advocate of so-called "Sound Money." Just prior to the democratic convention in Kentucky in 1895 to elect delegates to the democratic national convention at Chicago, Col. Goebel visited Washington City. To numerous newspaper men who called on him at the time he made the prediction that the democratic state convention would adopt a gold platform, and would send a gold delegation to Chicago. The convention did adopt a gold platform, but nominated a silver advocate for governor, Hardin, who was later defeated at the polls by Governor Bradley.

Goebel was an ardent supporter in 1896 of the candidacy of ex-Secretary Carlisle for the democratic nomination for the presidency, and it is said, used his strongest influence to select a delegation to the Chicago convention pledged to the gold standard, and to the candidacy of the great exponent of the gold standard. After the nomination of Col. Bryan by the Chicago convention, Goebel gave his warm support not only to the nominees, but to the platform adopted, and has since proclaimed himself a silver man. At the present time, he said to be in favor of the renomination of Col. Bryan, and in favor of the reaffirmation of the silver plank in the democratic platform. He is opposed to trusts, and is an anti-expansionist. Kentuckians in Washington predict his election by a good majority next November.

The application of the North Carolina creditors of Porterfield and Company, the stock brokers of this city who recently made an assignment, for the appointment of receivers, has been denied by the court, upon the ground, it is stated, that the counsel for the company admitted that the business was one of gambling, and that gambling debts cannot be collected by law. If this be true, it is held that it makes the firm guilty of crime, and an attempt will be made to secure the indictment of the firm in North Carolina, and application may be made for the requisition of the partners to the state. There seems now in view of the decision of the court, no prospect of the creditors of the defunct brockerage firm ever getting their money.

Quite a number of prominent Richmond people were in the city yesterday stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel. Among the delegation were the following well known professional and business men of the city: Messrs John A. Speer, John C. Robertson, J. W. Macmurdo, John L. Munce, and W. S. Woodson and wife.

Richmond people who were in the city yesterday do not attach much importance in the statements that Governor Tyler, of Virginia, may become a candidate for the senatorship to succeed Senator Martin. The opinion among Richmond people is that Martin will be re-elected, and that Governor Tyler will serve out his term as governor. Richmond city, and Henrico county, it is said is strongly in favor of the re-election of Martin to the United States senate.

Mr. Henry E. Alvord, of this city, is in North Carolina attending the meeting of the North Carolina State Dairymen's Association, which has just convened at Concord, in that state. It is expected that he will take a prominent part in the meeting.

It is said that Governor Russell admits that the democrats of North Carolina will pass the proposed constitutional amendment restricting negro suffrage by a large majority, and that it will receive the support of a number of republicans now seems to be accepted.

George E. Fisher has been commissioned postmaster at Kindley, North Carolina.

Mr. N. W. Ray and wife Mr. Donald Ray, and Mrs. S. M. Tate, all of Fayetteville, N. C., are in the city, stopping at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Wouldn't you like to have gray hair like that distinguished-looking man? "No, I'd dye first."

Burning Heretics.

TRINITY NOTES.

Attendance Good at the Summer School--Dr. Kilgo Gone North.

Correspondence Telegram.

There is a constant demand for houses at or near the Park by persons who want to take boarders.

Messrs. Bivins and Sparger, of the High School faculty, have returned after a fortnight of sight seeing in and around New York.

Mr S. S. Dent, of the Class of '97, has been elected assistant in English. He has hitherto been the very successful principal of the Morven Academy, Morven, N. C.

Mrs. White and Miss Moseley, of Mississippi, and Miss White of Trinity, who have been visiting Dr. Crawford, left last night for two weeks of sight-seeing in New York and Washington.

The residents of the Park are delighted that Dr. E. A. Yates will soon move to a commodious new residence just to the south of the campus. The frequent presence of this Christian gentleman will be appreciated by his many friends at the college.

Dr. Kilgo and Prof. Flowers left week for a trip north. Dr. Kilgo will visit a number of colleges and universities in New England and New York, and make a pleasure trip to Niagara Falls. Prof. Flowers will go to Chicago university for summer study.

The summer school of physical training opened on Tuesday, June 20th. The attendance has been good, Miss Simms, of the faculty of Greensboro female college, and Miss Moore, of the institution for the blind, at Raleigh, are assisting Mr. Whitehouse, the Trinity physical instructor.

Rev. P. T. Durham, adjunct professor of biblical literature and church history, arrived at the Park on Tuesday, June 20th. On Sunday he preached two excellent sermons, one at Trinity and the other at Main street church. On Thursday, June 29th, he will leave for Henderson where he will represent Trinity College at the Warrenton district conference.

A nice residence is being built on the property across the Guess Road from the Epworth Inn, which will be used by Mrs. Turner as a boarding house. The old buildings near the High School are being removed preparatory to the construction of new dormitories for that promising adjunct to Trinity College. Plans for a new president's house have been made and the contract will be let soon.

THE CONFEDERATE DEAD

At Arlington Cemetery Are Well Cared For.

Washington, June 28—At the instance of Adjutant General Corbin, Quartermaster General Dudington recently instituted an investigation of the published report that the government was neglecting the graves of the confederate dead in the national cemetery at Arlington. The report of Major T. E. True, the depot quartermaster, who has charge of the Arlington cemetery, has just been filed at the war department.

"There are," says Major True, "136 confederate soldiers and civilians, state prisoners, now interred at Arlington National Cemetery. Of the number 126 are known and 10 are unknown. These dead are buried with other honorable dead in the cemetery, their graves are known and recorded, are marked with head-stones very similar to those marking the graves of Union soldiers, bearing the name, but not the regiment, company or state, as in the case of Union soldiers; are well sodded and cared for, according to regulation, precisely as the graves of all the other dead in that cemetery cared for. In short, the confederate dead are honorably interred and honorably cared for. It is hardly probable that they would be so well cared for in any other than a national cemetery."

What you want is not temporary relief from piles but a cure to stay cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures piles, and they stay cured. Soothes and quickly heals old sores, scalds, cuts, burns, wounds and skin diseases. Howard Gardner.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the houses. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

J. Shaker—"Tell you what, I'm nervous today. I'm to call on Miss L vilipz tonight to get her final answer." T. Baker—"You needn't be afraid. I saw her at the stationer's yesterday. She left an order for visiting cards in the name of 'Mrs. J. Shaker.'"

Cholera Morbus Quickly Cured.

"During the hot weather last summer I had a severe attack of cholora morbus, necessitating my leaving my business," says Mr. C. A. Hare, of Hare Bros., Fincastle, Ohio. "After taking two or three doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I was completely relieved and in a few hours was able to resume my work in the store. I sincerely recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach or bowel trouble. C. E. Holton, druggist.

O'Loane—"You can get even with me by paying that V you owe me." Borrows—"Even? Hah! that would be odd."

"I was suffering with what the doctor called chronic indigestion, torpid liver and vertigo," says Mrs. Martha E. Barham, of Newville, Prince George Co., Va. "My symptoms were giddiness in the head, pains in my chest and an uneasy feeling all over. I also had female weakness. I was all run down, and could not do any work without suffering from nervous attacks, so I wrote to you. You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription.' I used five bottles of each. I gained in health and strength. When I commenced to use the medicines I weighed only 112 pounds, now I weigh 140. My husband and friends all thought that I would die, but to-day I am a well woman."

Mrs. Barham's experience is not singular. Thousands have given similarly strong and convincing testimony. There are no other medicines in the world that have such a long and continuous record of cures.

There are no other medicines "just as good" or "just the same" as Doctor Pierce's. Like all valuable things these medicines are sometimes imitated. Don't be imposed upon. See that you get what you ask for.

If you have any doubt as to the nature of your ailment write fully, giving your symptoms, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. He will consider your case carefully, and will tell you, absolutely free of charge, what to do to get well.

What is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure? It is the newly discovered remedy, the most effective preparation ever devised for aiding the digestion and assimilation of food, and restoring the deranged digestive organs to a natural condition. Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

The Best Remedy for Flux.

"In July of last year I was taken with a severe attack of flux," says Mr. Joe Baker, of Allentown, Tenn. "I procured a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and used about half of it and it effected a complete cure. This is the best remedy for bowel trouble on the market. C. E. Holton, druggist.

A Cheap Trip to the Pacific Coast.

The National Educational Association meeting at Los Angeles, Cal., is the occasion for the Southern Railway to put on the remarkably cheap rate of One Fare for the Round Trip (plus $2.00 Association Membership fee). This, in connection with the new Palace Tourist Sleeping Cars, operated over the Southern Railway and the Southern Pacific, a double berth in which costs only $7.00, renders possible the cheapest and most enjoyable trip of the season. A particularly pleasant feature of this trip is that the tickets are good going one way and returning another; i. e., going via New Orleans and returning through Salt Lake City and Colorado; or by the payment of $12.50 additional, the trip may be made returning through Portland, Ore.

Stop over privileges are allowed at El Paso or any point west thereof, on the going trip, and at any point west of Denver and Colorado Springs on the return trip. By this means passengers are afforded the opportunity of seeing the entire Pacific Coast Side trips are arranged at nominal cost from Los Angeles and San Francisco to all points of interest in California. Further information may be obtained from any agent or representative of the Southern Railway, or from Promising Pupil.

Some years ago a well known American pianist gave a concert at which he played a duet for two pianos with a pupil. The pupil, a young man of great talent, had come from a small town, and one of the well to do natives of the town went to the city for the sole purpose of attending the concert. On his return he was asked what he thought of the young man's musical achievements.

"He's doing as well as anybody could wish, and he'll do better yet," replied the prosperous townsman, with decision.

"He played a piece with his teacher that was 20 pages long. He gave the teacher the start by five minutes, and then he clipped in, and they came out at the end nip and tuck, if you'll believe me. Well, sir, when I heard that, I made up my mind we needn't worry another mite about how George would succeed.

"His teacher's considered the best piano player in this part of the country, and if George could do what he did at that concert it won't be many years before he'll beat him out and out, you can just rely on that.

"I'd be willing to bet, if I was a betting man, that in two years' time that teacher won't dare to undertake one of those two piano pieces with George unless George gives him a good ten minutes' start of him!"—Youth's Companion.

Can't Twiddle Their Thumbs.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes, have many points of resemblance to man, but there is one thing they cannot do—that is, twiddle their thumbs.

In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle his thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle.

There are the same number of bones in the hand of a gorilla as in the hand of man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers and never bends it round any object that may be grasped.

In the gorilla the web between the fingers extends to the second joint, the fingers taper to the tips, and there is a callosity on the knuckles on which the animal rests when walking on all fours.

There are many other strong points of resemblance between the ape and man, but—well, we wish to be charitable to our fellow man and will therefore drop the subject.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life; and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The Sapphire Country.

Along the cool southern slopes and table lands of the Blue Ridge mountains in Western North Carolina, at an average altitude of 3,000 feet, is a country full of delightful surprises to the tourist, sportsman and health-seeker. No other state contains so many clear, cold and wonderfully picturesque streams, so many grand water falls, such wide sweeping mountain views, and such beautiful lakes as the Sapphire Country, where until recently there was no provision made for the accommodation of visitors to this delightful section. Now, however, entertainment is offered on Lake Sapphire, Lake Fairfield, and on the summit of Mt. Toxaway, the view from the lodge there being the most extensive of any mountain point of vantage in North Carolina.

Parties desiring to visit this beautiful country can purchase round trip tickets to Brevard, N. C., via Hendersonville, where coaches convey you over good roads making the drive one of extreme pleasure. For full information call on any agent Southern Railway, or write R. L. A Fish Story—Shooting Match at "Lovers' Retreat."

Correspondence Telegram.

Mt. Vernon Springs, N. C., June 28—Enjoyable fishing party, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murchison, was the leading feature of the day at Mt. Vernon Springs Tuesday.

First prize was awarded Miss Queenie McDonald, catching a fish weighing ten pounds; second prize, Miss Virginia Brown, catching a fish weighing eight pounds; consolation prize Mrs D. Whitlock, who caught Fishy a la Simpson.

After fishing two hours a fire was kindled and a grand feast prepared and enjoyed by the party, consisting of the following:

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murchison, Mrs. D. Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, Miss Ina Foust, Miss Queenie McDonald, Miss Virginia Brown, Miss Matton, Miss Edwards, Mr. Elie Whitlock, Mr. Julian Whitlock, Dr. Charles Roberson, Master Bryan Murchison, Master Cohn Murchison, Mr. Reginald Halcombe, Mr. R. M. Phillips, Miss Nannie Everitt.

At ten o'clock Wednesday morning a shooting match was given by Mr Phillips at "Lovers' Retreat." Winchester rifles No. 32 were used, the souvenirs being miniature rifles. Much amusement was caused by a young lady of the party shooting at the target and killing a squirrell sitting on a branch near by. The party returned much fatigued and were given a sumptuous luncheon by Mr. and Mrs. Foust.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

"Were you scared when he kissed you?" "No; but I was just before it." "How so?" "I was afraid he wasn't going to."

W. M. Gallagher, of Bryan, Pa., says: "For forty years I have tried various cough medicines One Minute Cough Cure is best of all." It relieves instantly and cures all throat and lung troubles, coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, la grippe and pneumonia. Howard Gardner.

"O, my gracious!" giggled the butter, "ain't I easy?" "Yes, replied the fly, "you're soft, that's why I'm stuck on you."

MR. H. O'CONNOR DEAD.

Popular Traveling Man Dies In This City.

At the McAdoo House this morning occurred the extremely sad death of Mr. H. O'Connor, a popular and progressive traveling man, originally from Columbus, Ga.

Mr. O'Connor, it seems, had been drinking heavily for several days He returned from a trip yesterday morning and registered at the McAdoo House, which place he and Mrs O'Connor have made their headquarters for the past two years. He drank nothing after reaching here, but about 3 o'clock in the afternoon was stricken with apoplexy, from which he never rallied sufficiently to speak. Physicians remained with him all night, but were unable to do any good, and at 7:15 o'clock this morning death claimed him.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor have spent much time in Greensboro during the past six years and made a large circle of friends here, who deeply sympathize with the loving wife in her sad bereavement.

The remains will be taken tonight to Mr. O'Connor's former home in Columbus for interment.

Capt. Stagg Ill
